

NICWA

National Indian Child Welfare Association

41st Annual Protecting Our Children Conference Sponsor Levels

*April 2–5, 2023
Reno, Nevada*

Each year, NICWA hosts the largest national gathering on American Indian and Alaska Native (AI/AN) child advocacy issues. With over 1,400 attendees—and growing every year—this three-day conference has become the premiere national event addressing tribal child welfare and well-being. Keynote speakers range from federal officials at the highest level of government to youth with lived experience in child welfare systems.

NICWA provides meaningful programming to conference attendees, creating a space where participants can learn about the latest developments and best practices from experts in the field and from one another. Participants represent a cross-section of fields and interests including child welfare, mental health, and juvenile justice service providers; legal professionals; students; advocates for children; and tribal, state, and federal leaders.

Support our mission to protect Native children and their families and keep them connected to their culture with a tribal government or corporate Protecting Our Children Conference sponsorship.
